Child's Nude Body Found

Police Chief Says Girl 'Definitely Was Raped'

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP)—The body of curly haired Donna Sue Davis, her pink pajama tops wound around her neck, was found crumpled at the edge of a cornfield late Monday.

The 2-year-old girl had been snatched from her crib within minutes after being tucked in bed by her mother Sunday night.

Police Chief James O'Keefe said the child "definitely had been raped."

The body, which bore marks of a beating about the head, was discovered on the Ernest Oehlerking farm, about a mile south of South Sioux City, Neb., across the Missouri River from here.

The child's pajama bottoms, a diaper and rubber pants, which police said were bloodstained, were picked up by Oehlerking about three-fourths of a mile from where the body was found.

Neighbors of the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, a family of modest means, reported seeing a man prowling about the Davis duplex Sunday night but didn't get a good look at him. Another neighbor said he pursued a man running with a bundle down an alley near the Davis home but failed to catch him.

Oehlerking said a nearby farmer told of hearing a car on the road by his farm about midnight Sunday night. But again the occupant was not seen.

'Severe Blow'

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury County coroner, said Donna Sue was killed by a severe blow on the head, causing a massive brain hemorrhage. He confirmed the girl had been sexually assaulted.

Little Donna, who weighed only 21 pounds, was helped into her thin summer pajamas at 9:30 Sunday night by her mother and as Mrs. Davis tucked her into the crib she repeated the familiar saying:

"Three to get ready and four to go-to bed."

Then Mrs. Davis turned off the bedroom light and went into the kitchen to read the paper. The Davises' other children, Mary Claire, 11, and Timmy, 7, were asleep in another room. Davis, a railroad clerk, was in the parlor watching television.

Empty Crib

About 30 minutes later, the father ready to retire, had gone to the bedroom, which they shared with Donna, and found the crib empty except for a teddy bear and rubber doll which always went to bed with the child.

"Where's Donna?" Davis asked.

Even before Mrs. Davis hurried to his side, he said, he saw the window screen gone and knew the answer. The window of the first floor bedroom is only four feet from the ground.

The body was located about 4:45 p.m. 200 feet from the Oehlerking farm home. Stalks of the waist high corn were broken as though the body had been thrown into the field.

Found By Women

Mrs. Oehlerking, her sister-in-law and the seven daughters of the two women discovered the body. Police, Iowa National Guard members, Boy Scouts and volunteers had searched the Sioux City area last night and today for the missing girl.

George Berger, a next door neighbor, saw a man cross through a hedge near the Davis duplex. Nearby the dog of Mr. and Mrs. Laif Fjelds barked loudly.

They saw a man in a white T-shirt, carrying a bundle, run away when Fjelds turned on a back-

Suspects In $17,600 Robbery Of Utica Man Still At Large

A 21-year-old woman and an unidentified man sought by Nebraska police as suspects in a $17,600 home robbery of Clyde Parker, 52, of Utica were still at large Monday evening.

The woman, identified by authorities as Sharon McVay, 21, was being sought in connection with the robbery which took place late Saturday night. She and her companion reportedly beat up Parker and fled in a car which authorities say he had presented the woman as a gift.

Parker had allegedly known the woman six months, according to officials.

Sheriff Ray Welch of Seward County said the pair made off with $11,000 in cash and $6,500 worth of non-negotiable government bonds.

A spokesman for the State Highway Patrol, asked to aid in the investigation, declared that federal agents had not been called in.

According to Patrol spokesman, the woman sought is on parole from a California burglary. She is said to have relatives living in Nebraska, and had been arrested in Omaha in a narcotics round-up.

Contract Cancellation Order Is Issued By Ike

Memphis Mayor Pledges His City Will Construct Generating Plant

DEMOCRATIC CRITICS JUBILANT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower abandoned the Dixon-Yates contract Monday and his cancellation orders touched off some verbal victory fireworks by Democrats in the Senate.

Jubilant opponents of the big private power project poured it on the President, calling the contract cancellation a "surrender."

"The wire became too hot for the President to hold!" shouted Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.).

Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.) said Eisenhower "grossly exceeded his authority" in ordering the contract negotiation in the first place.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) called on Congress "to prevent any more crimes of this kind."

Democrats have been fighting the Dixon-Yates project in and out of Congress for more than a year, but it was the city of Memphis that delivered the clinching blow.

Cancellation of the 107-million-dollar undertaking was ordered after Mayor Frank Tobey of Memphis personally assured Eisenhower that his city will build a generating plant of its own to furnish the electric power the federal government had contracted for from the Dixon-Yates interests.

Brownell Announces It

Atty. Gen. Brownell announced the President's action at a White House news conference a few minutes after Tobey had seen Eisenhower. In the light of Monday's developments, Brownell said, "The federal government will immediately take steps to terminate the Dixon-Yates contract."

Tobey called it "unquestionably a victory for public power." Asked what Eisenhower's reaction was, the mayor smiled and said, "The President is very happy about it."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), one of the chief opponents of the project, spoke more bluntly.

"Too Onerous."

"The Dixon-Yates contract was iniquitous in the beginning, against the public interest, and became too onerous for the administration to bear," he said.

Springer was pinned under the wreckage until Monday when he managed somehow to get out and reach the highway. He was hospitalized here and his condition was such that he could not be questioned about the accident.

Young Peery was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Peery, and was staying with relatives at both Superior and Nelson while his parents were in California.

The death was the 148th traffic fatality of the year, the same as on July 11 a year ago.

Youth Saved After Spending Day In Wreck

SUPERIOR, Neb. (AP)—Wendell Springer, 20, of Bostwick, Neb., dug himself out of the wreckage of his car Monday, staggered to the highway and flagged down a passing motorist—revealing an accident that apparently happened late Saturday night and that killed a young friend, Sammy Lee Peery, 12, of Nelson.

Investigating officials said Springer and the Peery boy were last seen alive here about midnight. They started to drive back to Nelson. Officials said it appeared that the car swerved off a bridge two and a quarter miles west of here, plunged into a 15 foot ditch and overturned.

Springer was pinned under the wreckage until Monday when he managed somehow to get out and reach the highway. He was hospitalized here and his condition was such that he could not be questioned about the accident.

$650 Million Foreign Aid Cut OK'd In House

Stassen Appeal To Restore Slash Ignored By Solons

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House voted $2,638,741,750 for the foreign aid program Monday after rejecting a White House appeal for restoration of a $650 million dollar cut.

The funds are for the 1956 fiscal year which began July 1. The measure now goes to the Senate, where the administration will try to restore some of the funds slashed by the House.

The House approved the bill by a vote of 251 to 123, without altering it from the form recommended by its Appropriations Committee. This included a reduction of $649,760,750 in the $3,266,641,750 requested by the President.

No one even made an effort on the House floor to restore the cuts.

Thus, the House ignored an appeal by Harold Stassen, special assistant to the President, who wrote congressional leaders that the reduction would "gravely hinder" U.S. foreign policy.

'Urgent Threat'

Of the $650 million cut from the President's request, the largest amount was in the funds for military assistance to foreign nations.

Stassen said the 420-million-dollar slash "would result in an inability to fulfill urgent needs in countries where military requirements have been discussed and agreed and where countries have taken steps to meet commitments on raising forces, granting base rights, etc."

A total of 162 million dollars was also cut from the Asiatic aid program. Stassen called his "very serious."

Turncoats, Armed With Comic Books, Sail

'WE ARE WILLING TO PAY'
... Bell Declares

HONG KONG (P) — The three turncoat former U.S. soldiers who found life in Communist China "hellish" sailed for home Monday night, each carrying a supply of comic books.

William Cowart, 23, Lewis Griggs, 22, and Otto G. Bell, 24, expect to face prosecution when they reach the United States. They have acknowledged committing acts as prisoners during the Korean War which, in Cowart's words, were "contradictory to what an American should do."

Bell said "we are willing to pay for what we did."

The three men boarded the liner President Cleveland just before it left at midnight, walking hurriedly by several jeering American crew members.

They were escorted to their third-class bunks by U.S. consulate officers Robert Aylward and S. M. Backe, who refused to let reporters and photographers follow them. Backe blocked the door of the dormitory cabin far down in the ship saying, "Let's give the boys a break."

Their quarters are far from plush. The cabin contains 50 bunks. A steward said almost all, if not all, the other passengers assigned to it are Chinese.

Cowart, Griggs and Bell had their passage paid by the consulate. The State Department ordered them confined to the President Cleveland until it docks at San Francisco, where it is due on July 29.

Dishonorable Discharges

The U.S. government has not indicated what is in store for the trio except to state they will be "responsible for any acts they committed." A court-martial is unlikely because all have been dishonorably discharged from the Army.

The three men boarded the ship with small rattan valises containing toilet articles and used clothing selected from a British Red Cross warehouse in Hong Kong earlier in the day. Each had received Hong Kong currency from the Chinese Reds before their release and a Red Cross representative here gave each 30 U.S. dollars.

Their faces were serious—a contrast to the broad grins they wore when they crossed the border from Red China Sunday afternoon and the smiles they displayed for cameras at a news conference.

Communist China, they told newsmen, is a rigid police state. The Communist regime is hated by the people and is worse than Hitlerism because "it destroys minds."

Throats Dusty

DUBLIN, Ireland (P) — Irish throats were dusty in the heat wave, and a couple thousand hard-hearted bartenders wouldn't draw a pint of beer, not even for your grandmother.

The barmen of the town went on strike. They stood outside the pubs, wearing straw hats and in their shirt sleeves, and picketed the taverns. Few were brave enough to cross their lines at the few places where the boss and his missus tried to carry on.

The barmen demand an increase in pay, which at present is $20.02 a week.

Citizens Protest Euclid Terminal Of 1-Way Streets

A citizens' group Monday protested to the City Council on the planned one-way street system on 16th and 17th that would end at Euclid on the south.

The protestants, all of them living on Euclid, claimed that from the standpoint of safety, a different street should be used as the southern terminal street for the one-way system.

Stephen Songster, 1636 Euclid, told the Council there are 12 children now living in the one-block area on Euclid and that these "are not expendable." He said Prescott School children also frequent the neighborhood.

Other suggested terminal streets were Washington and Van Dorn.

John Boyd, 1635 Euclid, told the Council that South St. would be a better terminal point from the standpoint of safety.

The Council took the matter under advisement.

Wheat Near Eighty Bushels

DOUGLAS (P) — A wheat yield of almost 80 bushels per acre was reported here Monday.

M. W. Dunlap, of the Farmers State Bank, said the yield from a measured field of about 8 acres averaged more than 70 bushels.

The yield was reported by Mark Roberts who operates the Anna Panko farm.

Adlai Released

CHICAGO (INS) — Adlai Stevenson was released Monday from Lake Forest Hospital where he had been under treatment for bronchial pneumonia during the past five days.

Physicians advised the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee to spend at least another week resting at his home in Libertyville, Ill., before resuming his law practice.

Prison Strike Is Halted By Armed Cops

CRANSTON, R. I. (INS) — The 340 inmates at the Rhode Island State Prison in Cranston Monday night staged a sit-down strike in the mess hall in sympathy for five prisoners who have been locked up in solitary confinement.

The convicts refused to leave the mess hall for their usual recreational period and told Warden William C. Kindelan he must release the five from solitary.

However, after some 90 armed police from Cranston, Warwick, Providence and state police were called in, the inmates quietly left the mess hall and went to their cells.

When Kindelan first refused to agree to their demands, the inmates asked to confer with Harold V. Langlois, assistant director of the state division of social welfare. As Langlois headed for the prison, he ordered out the police as a precaution.

After the inmates made their demands, Langlois refused and told them to return to their cells. About 20 left. He gave the rest five minutes more. About 100 remained. Then he brought in the police, and within two minutes the mess hall was cleared.

The only fatality reported from the fires occurred in the Prescott blaze. Charles Cline, 57, of Wagoner, Ariz., burned to death when he was trapped in a canyon while prospecting, authorities said.

Services will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Harman Mortuary, the Rev. Walter Jewett officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Home Cemetery.

Council Approves $7,500 For New Transformers

Overloads on city transformers caused by increased use of air conditioning resulted in emergency action by the City Council Monday.

The Council granted Public Works Director D. L. Erickson the authority to purchase up to $7,500 in new transformers to meet requirements. The city is advertising bids for $30,000 more in equipment.

The city's electrical engineer, W. L. Bitney, who just completed a load study, said transformers in some areas are too small to handle the loads now on them. He said the electrical demand has jumped a full kilowatt a home. The normal usage is about one kilowatt a day.

The Council also authorized the purchase of 6,000 feet of KVA transformer cable for the A St. plant. The cost is $1,800.

3 Western Fires Are Fanned Up

By The Associated Press

Freshening winds whipped up fires roaring in forests of three western states Monday, but tired firefighters redoubled efforts to check the blazes.

They reported progress on all fronts during the day but made no claim of controlling any of the fires.

Reinforcements came to aid in the battle, raising the crews to more than 2,000 men. They include U. S. Forest Service experts, Indians, National Guardsmen, Air Force men and volunteers.

Officials described the chance of containing the largest of the blazes — in a wild, uninhabited section of Arizona's Prescott National Forest — as "promising" despite the rising wind.

Minor Spread

The burned over area, some 15 miles south of the city of Prescott, was estimated at 19,400 acres shortly — a comparatively minor spread from the 19,000 reported Sunday.

Cooling rains brought two fires in the Medicine Bow National Forest in southeastern Wyoming to a standstill late Monday.

The larger Wyoming fire, which broke out Wednesday on Rock Creek 45 miles northwest of Laramie, has eaten through 2,300 acres. The smaller, discovered Saturday, has destroyed 1,200 acres on Lincoln and Brush Creeks southeast of Saratoga.

A blaze in northwestern Colorado in the Routt National Forest, may be confined to its present comparatively small area if winds don't rise, Supervisor G. D. Pickford reported.

The Prescott blaze broke out Friday and split into tongues during the week-end, one about 2½ miles north of Horse Mountain and the other about 2 miles west of the mountain.

The only fatality reported from the fires occurred in the Prescott blaze. Charles Cline, 57, of Wagoner, Ariz., burned to death when he was trapped in a canyon while prospecting, authorities said.

Services will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Harman Mortuary, the Rev. Walter Jewett officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Home Cemetery.

Senate Group OKs Contempt Citations For 3

WASHINGTON (P) — The Senate Judiciary Committee Monday approved contempt citations against turnabout witness Harvey Matusow; Harry Sacher, New York attorney; and Joseph Starobin, New York writer.

The citations now will be submitted to the Senate.

Matusow appeared as a government witness against numerous persons he identified as Communists and later declared that much of his testimony was false.

Sacher, one of the defense attorneys in the trial of the 11 top Communist leaders in 1949, was cited for refusal to answer questions at a hearing last April 19 on cases he has handled.

That Anderson had planned to step out was long rumored and Secretary of Defense Wilson confirmed it on June 23, saying the resignation would be submitted "in the next few months." The White House announced Monday that Eisenhower had accepted the resignation "with the greatest reluctance," effective about Aug. 15.

No successor has been chosen for Anderson, 45, a Texas Democrat who supported Eisenhower in the 1952 presidential campaign. He left a reported $60,000-a-year job as general manager of the huge Waggoner estate in Texas to become secretary of the Navy in Defense Department job in April 1953. He moved up to the No. 2 last year.

Mr. Elliott, 91, a machinist for the Dempster Mill Mfg. Co. here for 60 years before retiring in 1946 and inventor of the first two-row cultivator in 1900, died Monday at his home.

Mr. Elliott began his work with the Dempster Co. when the plant was located on the Blue River, on the water wheel. He was a member of the Centenary Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Nellie, at home; two sons, Charles and Clifford, both of Beatrice; one daughter, Mrs. Frank Abell of Dayton, O., one brother, Andy P. of Beatrice; one sister, Miss Emma Elliott of Los Angeles, Calif.; 14 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

"Everything of value in them, such as instruments and equipment, was removed before they were returned," the officer told newsmen. "The Soviets apparently beat them immediately after the war."

The vessels include 30 patrol torpedo boats and five subchasers. They were handed over to American officials recently by Soviet sailors who brought them to the German Baltic port of Kiel. The Russians also are scheduled to return 27 other small warships later this summer.

The American officer said the patrol torpedo boats originally cost $250,000 each but are now obsolete. The craft are being transferred via the Kiel Canal to the U.S. naval commander here.

Lombardo made the announcement after driving his inboard hydroplane Temp VII at a 130-mile-an-hour clip over a regatta course on Lake Fanshawe.

He said a minimum of three miles straight run would be needed for an attempt on the record but he could find only two on Lake Fanshawe.

Louisiana Loses Suit To Block Submerged Land Lease By U.S.

ACTION TOSSSED OUT BY FEDERAL JUDGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louisiana Monday lost its suit to block the federal government from leasing, for oil and gas development, submerged lands the state contends it owns.

U.S. District Judge James W. Morris threw out the suit which asked for a temporary restraining order pending a further hearing.

As a result, the government may go ahead and receive bids Tuesday in New Orleans for leasing of about 430,000 acres of submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico.

73,000 Acres Up For Lease

Of the lands being offered for lease about 73,000 acres also have been put up for lease by the state. The state insists its boundary extends three marine leagues, or 10½ miles from the coast. The federal government's position is that state ownership ends three miles out.

In refusing to issue a restraining order, Judge Morris said:

"I should not entertain a suit to divest the United States of this property."

Wrong Court

He also said the state was in the wrong court. The Supreme Court now has pending before it the question of Louisiana's boundary and the state should look to that court, Morris said.

Named defendants in the suit were Secretary of the Interior McKay and other department officials. W. Scott Wilkinson of Shreveport, special counsel for the state, contended the suit was not against the government.

"You could never convince me in this world that this is not a suit against the United States," Morris told him. The government cannot be sued in such matters without its consent.

Cites Stipulation

Wilkinson argued that when Louisiana was admitted to the Union in 1812 Congress stipulated that the state owned all property at least three leagues from the coast.

Furthermore, he said, the Submerged Lands Act of 1953 implied the same thing by giving the Gulf states ownership of all lands within their historic boundaries.

John F. Davis, who represented the Justice Department, contended Louisiana's historic boundary is three miles out, not 10½ miles.

Very few people are privileged to observe their 104th birthday, but that's just what Mrs. E. W. Lyman of Lincoln will do Tuesday.

Mrs. Lyman lives with her only son of 1902 So. 30th. She was living daughter, Mrs. Harry Armborn in New York, and came to Nebraska in 1968, settling in Lone Tree, now Central City.

She was married in 1873 to a Burlington conductor. They lived in Dunlap, Ia., and Grand Island until his death in 1902.

Mrs. Lyman has lived in Lincoln since 1919.

Mrs. Armborn said the birthday will be celebrated quietly at home.

School Merger Needs 55 Pct.—Atty. General

The attorney general's office has stated that petitions for joining two class VI School Districts (former county high school districts) need contain only the signatures of 55 per cent of the voters of the individual school districts seeking the joinder.

The opinion, written by Robert V. Hoagland, assistant attorney general, said it was not necessary for the petitions to contain the signatures of voters in the counties affected.

The opinion was requested by W. C. Conover, Grant County attorney.

UP Promises An 'Equitable Distribution Of All Boxcars

OMAHA (AP)—The Union Pacific Railroad said Monday it will continue a policy of "equitable distribution of boxcars" despite shortages in some areas.

E. Hicks, vice president in charge of operations, referred to the shortage of boxcars in wheat areas but added that the shortage is national and not confined to any particular area or type of shipment.

To alleviate the situation, Hicks said, the railroad has placed steel roofs on 400 hopper cars besides building 1,000 new cars in its Omaha shops.

Strikes, Too

Hicks said the car shortage in wheat areas was brought about by an unanticipated general increase in traffic and an exceptionally heavy loading of boxcars.

Truck strikes, first on the West Coast and later on the East Coast, helped curtail the normal flow of cars to the grain belt, he explained.

"While the serious shortage is, of course, for the better grade of grain products, for the first time in many years, there is a tight situation for the second grade, or so-called rough box."

He said, "We have been promised and have to a certain extent of late received some relief in the southern part of the United States where wheat is being released."

"At the present time, the cars under load, congesting terminals and inspection points, is a controlling factor and further relief will not be possible until the loads are released and the return of the empties from the South," Hicks added.

Minutes later the car completed its run. Twenty white-faced passengers told the youth that the three-car train had struck and killed a man.

Monday, however, he appeared not to hear, the passengers said. The train hit him 23 feet above the ground, knocking him 10 feet to the catwalk that would have given him safety.

He died soon after reaching a hospital.

Cyclist Runs Over His Wife—Twice

LONDON (AP)—A 47-year-old metal worker was accused in a London court Monday of trying to murder his wife by running over her twice with a motorcycle.

Prosecutor Keith Lewis said Sidney P. Tucker made two runs on a sidewalk at his estranged wife.

Then he was said to have dismounted and kicked her as she lay on the ground, yelling: "I've waited 20 years to do this."

Mrs. Tucker, 42, suffered injuries to her left side and leg. Her husband pleaded innocent to a charge of causing her grievous bodily harm with intent to murder. He was ordered to stand trial.

Making No Headway

Nebraska struck a trial balance of its highway traffic fatality ledger at week's end and was constrained to report, "business as usual."

As of Monday morning the state's 1955 deaths stood at 147. Over the same period a year ago the total was 148. Momentarily only one life has been spared.

Those grim figures do not reflect progress in the continuing campaign for highway safety. And it is a negative position to say, "Well, there might have been more." The victory, if there is to be one for the safety campaign, is a substantial reduction in the annual number of highway deaths—the reduction of them to the absolute minimum.

Just What Is Being Stopped?

Lest the current controversy over the Dixon-Yates arrangement to supply electric power to the Tennessee Valley Authority reduce itself to over-simplification, it is well to reflect on some long-range aspects of it.

The Eisenhower administration says it did not intend to harm TVA or any other example of public power. In respect to TVA it holds rather that it has a right and duty to place a ceiling on that ever-growing agency. And since TVA has grown far beyond the original expectation of most people, there is no hurt in saying now, "thus far, but no farther." On such grounds the administration had favored a contract to a private utility combine to build a 600,000 kw steam-generating plant to supply TVA's declared need for that much additional power—a shortage TVA would like to cover by construction, itself, of steam-generating facilities.

The Dixon-Yates contract is now to be canceled, because the city of Memphis, Tenn., declined it would prefer to build its own power plant, a move which lightens the power demands on TVA. But that is just one phase of the general question.

There is controversy also over whether any ceiling should be put on TVA, for it has its supporters as well as its critics.

But even should it be conceded that a TVA ceiling would be in the public interest, then there is the matter of the kind of ceiling that should be employed. Most people will agree that a ceiling on growth ought not to carry with it a commitment to obsolescence and slow economic death.

The danger of the ceiling as the administration applies it is that a precedent in forbidding TVA to engage further in the field of non-hydro-generated power could ultimately rule it out of the atomic power field—a field of such promising facilities that it could spell the difference between survival and eventual extinction of the nation's largest public power agency.

Danger Of Unrealism

The recent outbreak of the ugliest sort of crime by teen-agers has placed a sorry burden of reporting on the newspapers and warns the general public that it has a growing problem in the rearing of its young.

"Juvenile delinquency" is too bland a term for youngsters who become calculating killers and destroyers of property by cool and ugly planning. The worst of adult criminals can do no more than that and at the least such acts far surpass the definition of mischief or waywardness in their usual meaning.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES ESTATE, Calif.—Note: Under the heading, "Today in American History," the Los Angeles Times last Friday said: "One of the great political speeches of American history was the 'Cross of Gold' speech of William Jennings Bryan delivered at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago on July 8, 1896. The demand for inflation through the unlimited coinage of silver which had been heard for 20 years was at its height in 1896, and its advocates went to the Democratic convention determined to capture the party platform and candidate. They met with early success . . ."

Mr. Bryan's greatest weakness politically was that he persisted constantly in being far in advance of his times. "In words and phrases often used in his Nebraska campaigns," the Times added, "he defied the gold standard advocates and closed his speech with the famous peroration: 'You shall not press

down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns, you shall not crucify mankind upon a Cross of Gold.'"

The convention got out of control. When it assembled no one had thought of Bryan as a candidate. "Now there was no other possibility," the Times concluded. It occurs to us that if Mr. Bryan had lived his life in Los Angeles as a citizen of the community, its Chamber of Commerce would have raised the money to erect a shaft of marble rising a mile in the air on the highest nearby mountain. That is the way they do things out this way. The Chamber would have seen to it that Bryan's "Cross of Gold" speech was engraved in full, the closing paragraph in letters 10 feet tall. It would have done this not because it loved Mr. Bryan but because it always has an eye for business. They miss very few tricks out here, whether it is politics, love or bathing beauties.

After announcement out of Washington that a group of Russian agriculturists would visit California to inspect its citrus industry, a resigned, sad-faced Floridian philosophized that the decision was not based upon "better oranges, grapefruit or lemons but because California had a better Chamber of Commerce than Florida." Hyde Sweet of Nebraska City—in the event he has overlooked this one in his collection of choice "Bullfornia" background, which seems most unlikely—may wish to clip and paste. The old Florida philosopher said a mouthful.

What the late William Jennings Bryan said on that hot July day in Chicago 59 years ago, however, was not his only prophetic preview of the future. What about his speech in London on July 4, 1912, in which he rocked the British capital long before Gandhi, Nehru and others, by demanding in blunt unequivocal terms that India be given independence and home rule? We have some notes at home on that particular speech before a joint meeting of the British and American Societies in London. One newspaper account said Big Ben never sounded the same again. After the turn of the century, would we have adopted the Jones act giving complete independence to the Philippines had it not been for Mr. Bryan's discussion of imperialism? Through these years of ousted royalty, what was Bryan saying about the common man? One or two of the great controversies in which he engaged seemed to be settled. The others—for example, inflation—continue on.

We know a few Nebraskans who still carry a faded copy of that "Cross of Gold" speech in their wallets—not that the copy has any relationship to the contents of the wallets. To them The Commoner himself was a political idol.

Tail-Chasing

The nation's steel workers have once again obtained an increase in wages and the steel companies in turn have passed the load on to the consuming public in the form of price increases—this time an increase of $7.50 a ton.

This has happened several times since World War II, each time the workers getting a little better earnings and the companies sending the bill to the general public. Within the industry itself it seems to balance with no one feeling any pain. But it cannot be gainsaid that such circular remedies contribute to a general rise in cost of living and leaves the public a little harder put to it each time.

Perhaps a better way to obtain wage relief is through a reduction in cost of living, aided by a reduction in the cost of steel, but certainly the steel-labor cycle is working in the opposite direction and is harming rather than helping the national economy.

Not Much To Be Said

The repatriation of the three American soldiers captured in Korea, preferred to stay in Red China, then changed their minds is not a matter of sufficient importance to justify the columns of space given to it in the American press.

There is not much to be dredged out of their lives and experience to prove anything but that they are an exception and a mighty rare one at that. The facility with which they forsook democracy and then returned to it under a cloud after forsaking Communism indicates little if any power of political discernment. New rules built on such ilk would have little practical value. There are so few of them and are of a type to which no rules apply.

Beauty Hangs Wednesday As Public Clamor Fails

LONDON (AP) — Ruth Ellis, beautiful 28-year-old platinum blonde murderess, heard from a prison governor Monday night that a public clamor to save her from the hangman's noose had failed.

The one-time model and night club hostess goes to the gallows Wednesday morning for the passion shooting of the young lover who jilted her.

No Appeal
She made no attempt to plead for royal clemency. "I am quite content to die," she had told friends who visited her in Holloway jail.

Home Secretary Gwynn Lloyd-George Monday turned down the mass of appeals and petitions with more than 25,000 names flooding into his office urging clemency. He studied reports from the trial judge, prison matrons, and recommendations of medical and legal experts before announcing his decision.

Insufficient Grounds
"There are not sufficient grounds to recommend any interference with the due course of the law," Lloyd-George said.

Dr. Charity Taylor, woman governor of Holloway jail, broke the news to Mrs. Ellis. There was no indication how she took it. Since her trial she has remained outwardly impassive and prepared for death.

Only The Queen
Now only a direct command from Queen Elizabeth II can save Mrs. Ellis. The monarch traditionally follows the advice of her ministers.

Mrs. Ellis, divorcee and mother of two children, has refused to fight against the death penalty conviction for shooting David Blakely, her 25-year-old lover, outside a tavern on Easter Sunday.

15th To Hang

She virtually asked for death at her trial, admitting she fired six shots at Blakely in a fit of jealousy.

Unless there is some unexpected, last-minute change, Mrs. Ellis will be the 15th woman to be hanged this century in Britain and the third since World War II.

The official hangman, Albert Pinnerup, who keeps a tavern named "Help the Poor Struggling Traveler," goes to the jail Tuesday night to make his preparations for the Ellis execution. He collects a 15-pound-$42-fee.

Hotel 'Slept,' Man Seeks $500,000

N E W Y O R K (P) — How much is it worth to be awakened in the morning?

A Milwaukee businessman figures he is entitled to $500,000 from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel because, he charges, it failed to wake him and he missed a profitable deal.

Frederick G. Osborne Jr., described in papers filed in State Supreme Court as a merchandiser, is suing the hotel.

He said he left specific instructions to be called at 9 a.m. for an appointment "which would have enabled me to realize a considerable profit."

He wasn't called, he missed the date, and suffered a substantial financial loss, he said.

Girl Breaks Arm In Bike Tumble

Marlene Street, 10, was to be released from the hospital Tuesday morning after being treated for injuries sustained after an accident on her bicycle Sunday night.

Marlene's father, Harry Street of 43 So. 48th, said she evidently had a cramp in her stomach and momentarily blacked out, falling off her bicycle.

She was treated for a broken arm and skinned face.

Aussies Aim To Serve As Asia 'Bridge'

"It is our aim to strengthen the bridge that Australia's role in world affairs provides between members of the free world and their Asian partners."

This position was explained Monday afternoon in a speech written by Sir Percy Spender, ambassador from Australia, and read by his aid, F. J. Blakeney, counselor in the Australian Embassy at Washington. Sir Spender, who was originally scheduled to give the world affairs preview speech at the University of Nebraska, is now on a trip to Central and South America.

Australia's role is possible, Blakeney said, for several reasons. "With a population of just over nine million, Australia can never be considered by the 600 million people of the area as constituting a threat of any kind."

Aussies Like People

"In addition we Australians like people. Our experience has taught us to take people as we find them, to appreciate the difficulties of people involved in a struggle with the land. We say what we think. We expect others to do the same. We know we have a lot to learn. Our geographical position gives us an unrivaled opportunity of learning."

After the speech, a panel discussion was held with the following participants: Dr. Colbert Held, acting chairman of the Geography Department; John Morrison, visiting lecturer in geography; Samuel H. Baron, visiting professor in history; and Dr. F. E. Sorenson, professor of school administration and of secondary education.

Wheat Crop Estimate Rises 24 Pct.

215,040,000
Bushel Corn
Output Seen

By The Associated Press

Federal crop forecasters Monday set the size of the 1955 Nebraska winter wheat harvest at 64,911,000 bushels, an increase of nearly 24 per cent over the outlook a month early.

Widespread late spring rains brought a turnaround in prospects for the crop, now being harvested. The June 1 estimates had pegged the crop nearly 10,000,000 bushels below last year's.

Forecasters Monday saw the 1955 Nebraska corn crop as likely to run to 215,040,000 bushels, biggest since 1952.

It was the first corn forecast of the year.

A crop of the size forecast Monday would average out at 32 bushels for each of the 6,720,000 acres planted to corn in Nebraska.

Last year's crop was 196 million bushels or 28 bushels an acre. The 1952 crop was 261,960,000-37 bushels an acre. Acreages harvested were greater each of the preceding three years than for the current year.

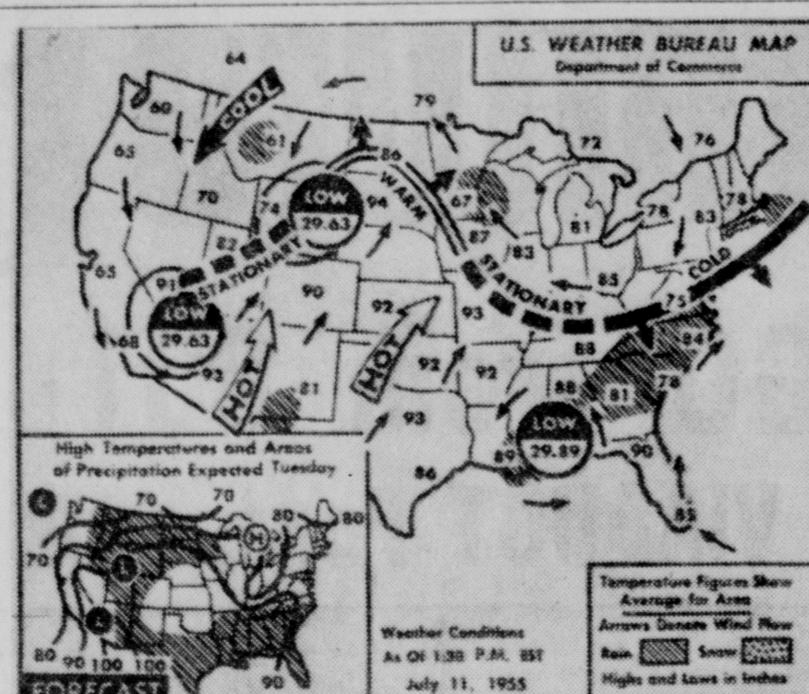

The forecast 64,911,000 bushel wheat crop would amount to 21 bushels an acre compared with 20 bushels an acre last year. The total last year was 61,200,000.

This year's 3,091,000 acres planted to wheat is considerably less than in 1952 or 1953, though trifle more than last year.

The Monday estimate of oats, based on July 1 conditions, as were the other estimates, set the Nebraska crop at 51,408,000 bushels—25 bushels per acre—compared with last year's 68,266,000 bushel crop.

The estimates for other Nebraska crops, with last year's harvest figure in parentheses:

Rye 1,550,000 bushels, 10 bushels an acre (1,550,000); dry beans, 232,000 bags of 100 pounds each, 1,600 pounds per acre (1,309,000); sugar beets 612,000 tons, 12 tons an acre (794,000); potatoes 4,200,000 bushels, 210 bushels an acre.

Warm Weather For Plains

Showers and thunderstorms are forecast Tuesday for the southern third of the nation from Arizona to the south Atlantic coast with like weather in the Rockies and northern plains and upper Mississippi valley. It will be warm over the plains, and become warmer in California. Little temperature change is expected elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

House Delays Controversial Height Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Action which may wind up a 10-year fight over the height of the Garrison, N. D. reservoir was delayed Monday until Tuesday at the earliest.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) said the House devoted all its time Monday to a foreign aid measure. As a result, final House action on the big money bill for public works, slated for Monday was put off. It likely will come up Tuesday.

Solution of the controversy over the height of the Garrison pool is wrapped up in language proposed by Sen. Young (R-ND), who is backing high level operation.

Approval Expected

This has been approved by Senate House conferees to the public works bill. Barring unforeseen developments, the Young proposal will be approved.

Young, who is backing operation of the reservoir at 1,850 feet above sea level, proposed and the Senate adopted an amendment to add $100,000 to the 20 million dollars voted by the House for the Garrison Dam and Reservoir.

Under this, the Army Engineers are directed to use the $100,000 to initiate protective works in and near the city of Williston. This will be needed when the pool is at 1,850 foot elevation.

The big multiple-purpose dam and reservoir is more than 80 percent completed. It will eventually cost nearly 300 million dollars. It is the key structure in the effort to harness the Missouri River.

Odds Against Me'

Rep. Burdick (R-ND), who for years has succeeded in having restrictions added to construction funds to hold the pool to no more than 1,840 feet above sea level, said in separate interview:

"The odds are against me, but I will try to get the House to go along with me. I want the members to know what they are voting on. I think I am right and I am going right ahead. If I get licked, that will be that."

Burdick's contention is that it will be years before the reservoir is filled and there is no need at this stage to put in the dikes for a part of the city of Williston and for other nearby areas.

2nd Highest Pct.

Year Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said Monday total crop production this year promises to be the second highest on record.

The department based its forecast upon conditions prevailing July 1 and took into account sharp cutbacks in some products—principally cotton and wheat—under rigid production controls.

This year's corn crop Monday was estimated at 3,449,667,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 860,331,000 bushels.

The corn estimate—the first of the year for the crop—compares with 2,964,639,000 bushels produced last year and an average of 3,080,115,000 for the 10-year (1944-53) average.

The wheat figure is 15,116,000 bushels more than 845,215,000 bushels forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's production of 969,781,000 bushels and with the 10-year average of 1,154,073,000 bushels.

Wheat is being grown under a rigid marketing quota program designed to prevent the accumulation of additional surplus supplies. Corn also is being grown under a less rigid acreage allotment program—effective in commercial corn-producing counties—which has the same goal.

The winter wheat portion of the wheat crop was forecast at 663,043,000 bushels compared with 639,224,000 indicated a month ago.

Spring wheat other than durum was estimated at 197,288,000 bushels compared with 179,044,000 last year and 236,683,000 for the 10-year average.

Two Suspects Questioned In Fatal Beating

OMAHA — Chief Deputy County Attorney Robert McGowan has taken new statements from two suspects in the fatal beating Friday night of Edward James Blades, about 70.

Held in the case are Elmer Lee Brooks, 32, and Carlos Henry, 36, both of Omaha.

Blades was found beaten and tied in the rear of his store. He died later the same night.

McGowan said Brooks told him that he went into the store with Henry to buy some clothing.

He admitted slapping Blades when the shopkeeper said something he did not like, McGowan said.

Brooks related that Blades walked to the rear of his shop, and Brooks followed him to slap him again. Then, the statement continued, Henry punched Blades and tied him up.

Joe Thwarted On Free-Satellites Move

Bipartisan Move Would Proclaim America's Hope

WASHINGTON (INS) — A bipartisan resolution proclaiming America's hope that Communist satellites will achieve freedom was introduced in the Senate Monday with President Eisenhower's approval.

The move thwarted a new attempt by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), to force action on a free-the-satellites resolution of his sponsorship. McCarthy was defeated, 77 to 4, in a show-down last month on a similar declaration.

The bipartisan pronouncement was introduced by Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland, Calif., with the co-sponsorship of acting majority leader Earl C. Clements, Ky., Senate Foreign Relations chairman Walter George (D-Ga.), and Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.).

The resolution was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee, which indicated it would clear the declaration for Senate approval before Mr. Eisenhower leaves Friday for the Big Four heads of government conference at Geneva.

Endorsement

Knowland told the Senate the resolution was drafted in consultation with the White House and the State Department, and with the President's endorsement. The draft states:

"The Senate proclaims the hope that the peoples who have been subjected to the captivity of alien despotism shall again enjoy the right of self-determination within a framework which will sustain peace;

"That they shall again have the right to choose the form of government under which they will live, and that the sovereign rights of self-government shall be restored to them all in accordance with the pledge of the Atlantic Charter."

The satellite resolution was introduced just 24 hours before bipartisan leaders were scheduled to meet with President Eisenhower for an advance briefing on the Big Four conference.

The McCarthy resolution would demand withdrawal of U.S. recognition of Red satellites and support for provisional "governments-in-exile," with temporary headquarters in West Berlin, which the Wisconsin senator described as "on the edge of darkness."

Eight Hours Of Helplessness

The arrow shows the spot where this car, driven by Charles Martin, 33, of Hickman, left the road near there, hurtled over a stream, struck a pole and then

Hickman Man Suffers Broken Back In Freak One-Car Mishap

A Hickman man was in serious condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning after he suffered a broken back in a freak one-car accident near Hickman.

Charles Martin, 33, lay helpless in a pasture near Hickman for nearly eight hours before he was found at 6 a.m. Monday. The accident occurred about 10 p.m. Sunday.

Martin, an employee of American Stores, said that twice during the night he called to passing cars, but that no one heard his cries for help.

He told Safety Patrolman Del Whitefoot he lost control of his car when the left rear tire blew out. Whitefoot said the car struck a bridge abutment, jumped a 35-foot creek, snapped a telephone pole, and then spun on 85 feet past the pole.

The car was about 50 feet from the lightly-traveled road when it stopped.

Martin was found, still conscious, by an unidentified neighbor.

AROUND TOWN

RIGHT now, it looks as though the current dawn isn't the only thing with rosy tints. In fact this morning's offering of news is exceedingly festive. Some of our news we can tell—some of it we can't tell until later—but what we can talk about will keep us busy for the nonce—

JUST found out that S. Sgt. Samuel Whitworth left Paris yesterday and will be arriving in Rightstown, N. J. at the McQuire Air Force Base early Wednesday morning. There, he will receive his discharge after more than three years of duty in the service, most of which was spent in Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Whitworth, Sgt. Whitworth's parents, are expecting him to arrive in Lincoln at the end of this week. During the summer of 1953, Mr. and Mrs. Whitworth and their daughter, Marion, visited with him in Europe.

AND we have news of a new member of the crib crowd whom we want to welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Barton are announcing the birth of a daughter, Marion, visited with him in Europe.

AND just in case you wondered,

Sharon Ann, who was born at Lincoln General Hospital on Wednesday, July 6. Young Miss Barton, her sisters, Mary Elizabeth, Eleanor Ann, Margaret Louise, and her brother, Michael Joseph, with their parents will be moving into a new home about the first of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton just recently have purchased Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Webster's former home at 2659 Ryans.

JUST learned that Lt. and Mrs. Owen Beach of Enid, Okla., are announcing the birth of a daughter, Kimberly Jean, who was born Saturday, July 9. Mrs. Beach is the former Marybelle Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baldwin. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beach.

Last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin went to Enid to become acquainted with their new granddaughter. Mr. Baldwin returned home Monday evening, but Mrs. Baldwin will remain with her son-in-law and daughter for several weeks.

SOMEONE told us that Capt. and Mrs. Robert Weber have a houseguest. Mrs. Weber's sister, Mrs. R. J. Henley of St. Louis arrived in Lincoln last Saturday evening to visit with her brother-in-law and sister. Mrs. Henley will be in Lincoln for about a month before returning to her home.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Webster and their family will be all settled in their new home at 3084 Sheridan by the end of July.

THEN, this morning, Miss Winnie Owen, a popular August bride-to-be is announcing the members of her wedding party. Her sister, Miss Suzanne Owen, will be her maid of honor. Miss Naegeli von Bergen will be Miss Owen's bridesmaid. Gene Friede of Nebraska City will serve his brother as best man and the corps of ushers will include Ray Nebelsick of Dunbar, Ralph Sebert of Nebraska City, William Neeman and Charles Barnell.

Miss Owen will become the bride of Marilyn E. Friede of Nebraska City on Tuesday evening, Aug. 16.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Becker and their daughter, Barbara, are in Lincoln visiting friends and members of their family. They plan to visit other relatives in Beatrice before returning to their home in Inglewood, Calif., this week end.

SOMEONE told us that Capt. and Mrs. Robert Weber have a houseguest. Mrs. Weber's sister, Mrs. R. J. Henley of St. Louis arrived in Lincoln last Saturday evening to visit with her brother-in-law and sister. Mrs. Henley will be in Lincoln for about a month before returning to her home.

The Brides' Book

One of the June brides-elect is Miss LaVonne Brunner, whose marriage to Dallas Lee of Durand, Mich., will take place on Sunday evening, July 31.

For her maid of honor, Miss Brunner has named her sister, Miss JoAnn Brunner, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Kay Riddle, Miss Carolyn Larsen, Miss Caroline Forsberg and Miss Phyllis Schulz. The junior bridesmaid will be Miss Ganelle Krueger of Sacramento, Calif.

AF Academy Is Dedicated With Pledge By Talbott

...Air Arm Ready 'Every Hour'

DENVER (AP)—The U.S. Air Force Academy was dedicated Monday with a pledge by Secretary Harold E. Talbott that the Air Force is ready "every hour of every day to destroy its enemies should they take the part of aggression."

He expressed the hope, however, that its power need never be unleashed, adding:

"Indeed it seems reasonable to hope that no nation will ever be so suicidal as to invoke it."

Talbott told 300 cadets enrolled

Monday at Lowry Air Force Base:

"We not only want peace, we mean to have it. We want no yard of ground, no dollar of treasure from any country on the face of the earth, but I say to all Americans—and to whom else it may concern—that the United States Air Force is ready at this minute, this hour, this day, and every hour of every day to destroy its enemies should they take the part of aggression."

Human Element

"We hope, as do all Americans, that our counterattack will never be needed . . ."

Talbott spoke in impressive ceremonies on an asphalt taxiway under a cloudy, humid sky, dedicating the academy to "the human element . . . to the leadership we must have if our country is to survive."

The secretary's address climaxed a display of aerial might paraded through the skies above the academy's first cadets, seated in the center of the ceremonial area. The cadets, dressed in khaki shirts and trousers, with Air Force blue caps and epaulets, marched snapplly into the area under the guidance of second lieutenants from West Point who had drilled them just hours before the ceremony.

The dedication was opened by planes from the 15th Air Force flying by in a salute. They included seven B-36 intercontinental bombers, 18 B-47s, swept-wing jet bombers, and 24 F-84F Thunderstreak jet fighters.

Calm

High winds just before the opening of the ceremony blew down Air Force blue bunting that had been strung around the top of bleacher seats erected for guests. The air calmed shortly before opening of the ceremony and except for cloudiness, weather conditions were ideal.

Talbott opened his dedication remarks by reading a message from President Eisenhower in which he said "in taking its place beside West Point and Annapolis, the Air Force Academy joins a proud company. The honored histories of the two older institutions provide a standard against which, in future years, the excellence of the new academy will be measured. I know it will be found worthy. The American people, I know, wish the Air Force Academy brilliant success."

Talbott also told the cadets and guests, "Our air power has kept the peace. It is keeping the peace. God willing, it will keep on doing so. This academy we are founding today will carry forward that great effort."

Council Passes Paving District Over Threat By Property Owner

Lincoln City Councilmen Monday ignored a threat to "take the City Council to the Supreme Court" over a disputed paving district by precipitately passing on a contract for the district.

Making the threat was William Niklaus, who has instituted several suits against paving contractors and Mayor Clark Jeary on paving district bid-letting.

The dispute was Paving District 1398, on Leighton Ave. between 60th and 63rd, and on 62nd between Leighton and Huntington.

Atty. Rollin Bahey, representing home owners in the area, said the paving district was essential because of the dust hazards there during the summer months. He told the Council that three persons have contracted dust pneumonia from the heavy fogging of dust and that one person was hospitalized because of it.

One protestant Mrs. Glen Brewer of 6246 Leighton, said she hauled more than 200 cans of oil to hold down the dust during its worst.

Niklaus claimed before the Council that there was only one person on his block who wanted the paving district.

Norman Warmke, 6126 Leighton, said Niklaus was practically the only person living on the particular block. He said Niklaus, whose address is 6255 Leighton, also lived too far back from the road to feel the effects of the heavy dust.

Of the council's action in letting the contracts Niklaus commented "we don't have competitive paving bidding in this town." He charged there were only two companies which even bid on the projects and that many people are forced to sell their property because they are not able to pay for the paving.

Mayor Jeary declined to take part in voting on the contract, which the Council unanimously approved, because he is named in one of Niklaus' suits.

In other action the Council approved, on third reading:

Paving District 1399, on Walker between 56th and 57th.

Paving District 1400, on Y between Cotner and 70th.

Water District 416, on Walker between 56th and 57th.

The Council turned down a zoning change request at 49th and J by Emil Biro, builder, for a change from A single unit to C four-family dwelling.

187th Airborne Starts Home In 2nd Half Of Giant Troop Shift

...Unit To Fly In 37 Globemasters

ITAZUKE AIR BASE, Japan, (Tuesday) — The 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, which made two wartime jumps in Korea during its five years in the Orient, starts back to the United States today in the second half of history's longest and biggest aerial troop shift.

The 187th will travel 9,000 miles to Fort Bragg, N. C., on the return flight of C-124 Globemasters

Some Local Auto Insurance Rates Are Pared Down

Lawrence J. Stratman, assistant rate supervisor at the state insurance department, said that firms following the rate schedules of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association will make the reductions.

The changes became effective July 5 on all new policies.

Comprehensive rates were dropped 9.6 per cent, and collision rates were dropped 12.7 per cent on $50 deductible and 11 per cent on $100 deductible.

Mrs. Cora H. Clay Dies At Age Of 72

Mrs. Cora Hester Clay, 72, died at a local hospital Monday. She had been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. Clay was born in Winona, Miss., and then moved to Junction City, Kan. She came to Lincoln in 1931. Her home address was 2014 S.

Surviving are four sons, Claude of Kansas City, Mo., Newton Henry of Lincoln, Edmund G. of New York, N.Y., and William A. of Venice, Calif.; four daughters, Mrs. Mollie Estes of Lincoln, Mrs. Verne Ballew, Mrs. Ada F. Stiles and Mrs. Astoria E. Woods Ball of Kansas City, Kan.; seven grandchildren; two great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Ada Nelson of Kansas City, Mo.

now airlifting the 508th Airborne RCT to Japan from Fort Campbell, Ky.

The 3,100-man 187th will fly in 37 Globemasters, about 90 men to a plane.

Practice Jump

The first is to take off at 10 a.m.

Some 56 hours later the first plane load of paratroopers will celebrate the regiment's return home with a practice jump at Fort Bragg. The men will transfer on arrival to a C-119 flying boxcar for the jump, the Army said.

While the giant Globemasters were checked and lined up to move the 187th homeward, still more C-124s lumbered into Ashiya Air Base, 35 miles northwest, with the replacement 508th.

Late last night 26 planes had brought some 2,300 men of the 4,000-man 508th to Japan. Seventeen more were en route from Fort Campbell.

New Stations

Men of the 508th are being sent by train to their new stations at Camps Chikamauga, Wood and Kashii, all on this island of Kyushu, main southern island of Japan.

They will have two weeks to get their camps in shape. Then they will go into the field for squad jumps on Monkey Mountain near Beppu.

Col. Norman E. Tipton, commander of the 508th, told newsmen at Ashiya that the huge airlift had proceeded smoothly so far. But he suggested that military travel regulations, drafted long before mass air travel became possible, be rewritten to speed up paper work connected with a soldier's transfer and the movement of families' household goods.

Nearly 900 Nebraskans have lost their drivers licenses under the point system law which has been in effect almost two years. Since September 1953, a total of 888 persons have lost licenses. Of these, 269 licenses have been reinstated upon filing proof of financial responsibility.

But this means of reinstatement will soon be a thing of the past. According to a new legislative act which will go into effect on Sept. 18 all persons whose licenses have been suspended will lose them for one year.

The act eliminates the provision that reinstatement is possible with proof of financial responsibility which amounts to $11,000 in in-

Texans Sentenced For Burglary Try

Two 40-year-old Texans have been sentenced to Nebraska Penitentiary terms of 18 months for burglary.

James J. Costello of Forney, Texas, and Ira W. McDowell of Bonham, Texas, had pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to breaking and entering the Municipal Gas and Coal Station at 19th and Q on July 6.

Judge Paul White, in pronouncing sentence, noted that McDowell had served a two-year term in Texas for forgery and that Costello had been placed on three-year probation in 1954 for grand larceny at Wichita, Kan.

The pair were arrested by police after a night watchman reported the two men acting suspiciously near the station.

Asked To Run Again, Ike Chuckles, Won't Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower chuckled—but he didn't say "yes" and he didn't say "no"—when 54 House Republicans observed the anniversary of his 1952 nomination Monday by asking him to run again.

The President told a delegation of three GOP representatives who visited him at the White House he was "very much complimented" by the first part of a petition they delivered to him.

The petition, signed by 54 House members, praised Eisenhower's "great leadership" and expressed the hope that he would seek reelection. It concluded with an expression of confidence that "upon the consideration of all the factors he will not refuse his country's call" in 1956.

Rep. William H. Avery of Kansas, who headed the visiting group, said Eisenhower chuckled heartily and commented that it was "the first political discussion I've had today." But he gave no commitment on his plans.

While the Republicans were praising Eisenhower's leadership, the Democratic Digest was suggesting that the President has been "remarkably hazy" on questions raised in connection with the chief executive's position on important government matters.

The Digest, official publication of the Democratic National Committee, said Eisenhower has a "predisposition to wait for others to suggest what he should do."

It quoted presidential responses that recommendations hadn't been made to him on some military and foreign policy matters in an effort to demonstrate what the magazine called "the President's aloofness from many of the daily developments in public affairs."

The almost total dependence on subordinates might not be a serious matter if those close to Mr. Eisenhower were urged to direct his attention to all matters on men.

Parent-Teacher Conference Meet

Some day any office in the Lancaster County Courthouse may be reached by dialing of a single number.

Cost of the installation would be $468.25 a month, compared with the $569.95 monthly phone bill now owned for the county offices, according to Lienemann.

Both judges are past 70. Both have filed for re-election.

The retirement law was passed by the 1955 Legislature.

Other advantages seen by Lienemann were a speed-up in services to the public and the lower cost for additional phones needed by some offices during rush seasons.

With the PBX board, an incoming call could be directed to the proper office and even to the proper person.

Wednesday they will fly to London. After the conference the Schroeders will join a party of Baptist ministers and laymen for a trip to the Holy Lands.

On Sunday Dr. Schroeder will preach in a Baptist church in Ilford in Essex, England.

Visit Mt. Sinai

The trip will include a visit to Mt. Sinai, where the Ten Commandments were given to Moses. Another trip will be a visit to Petra, the rose-red city of Edom, traveling by plane, car, and horseback. This formerly inaccessible and historic kingdom is seldom visited by travelers.

Methods, legislation and general development were the subjects under discussion at the annual summer meeting of the Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers Association.

H. G. Bobst, acting regional director of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, was speaker at the Monday morning meeting.

The meeting is to be followed by a tour of watershed developments in a rear Hickman and Sprague.

Three young men from First Baptist Church are serving in the armed forces in Europe. Tentative plans have been made for Lawrence Jones,

Flanders Asks Ike For A-Use Statement At Summit

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said Monday he has asked President Eisenhower to declare publicly that the United States would not use its atom bombs on civilian centers except in "reprisal" for such attacks by an enemy.

Flanders said he thought next week's Big Four meeting at Geneva would be logical place for the declaration. He said he did not know how Eisenhower felt about the idea.

Several Developments

The Flanders suggestion was one of several developments looking ahead to the American-Russian-British-French conference on world troubles. Among others:

1. Eisenhower discussed plans for the meeting late Monday with

Secretary of State Dulles and Sen. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He arranged another conference, on the same subject, for Tuesday morning with Democratic and Republican leaders.

Raps 'Cooing'

2. Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, the House Democratic leader, spoke out agains the "present cooing policy of the Communist leaders." He said: "While I have no objections to conferences at the summit level or any other level, I think we should keep our guard high."

3. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said Russia may be raising false hopes for a peace agreement at Geneva, just so it can blame the West if nothing much is accomplished. He advised against expecting too much, or too little.

Should Stay

4. Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said Congress should put adjournment thoughts out of its mind "until the country positively knows what the President has accomplished in Geneva." He said, "The present crucial moment in our relationship with the forces of Communism is hardly the time for us to pack up our suitcases and go home for this (Geneva) meeting."

5. Secretary Dulles arranged to leave for Paris by plane Wednesday afternoon. He will spend Thursday and Friday conferring with the British and French foreign ministers.

6. Rep. Dodd (D-Conn.), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, protested that, "There has been a studied effort to silence all in this Congress, and indeed outside of it, who express misgivings about the success of this (Geneva) meeting."

U.S. Court Asked To Decide Irrigation Fight Jurisdiction

The U. S. District Court has been asked to decide whether it has jurisdiction in a current dispute involving use of Loup River water for irrigation.

In a preliminary hearing Monday, Federal Judge John W. Delehant gave attorneys for the parties involved a total of 70 days in which to file briefs on the jurisdiction issue.

At stake eventually is the question of how much water the North and Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation Districts may divert from the Loup River. The Loup River Public Power District at Columbus has contended the two irrigation districts have been using more water than to which they are entitled.

RFC Receivership

The issue came to the Federal Court because the North Loup district is in receivership to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), a federal agency.

Vets Hospital Land Not In Transfer Ban

Dr. Melvin J. Boykin, Veterans Hospital manager, said Monday that a General Service Administration ban "freezing" the transfer of surplus government property did not include the land on which the hospital is located.

The 137-acre tract covered in the order, he said, had been declared surplus and turned over to the General Service Administration about a year ago.

Since then, he said, another smaller tract has been declared surplus and transferred to the GSA. The land is located east and south of the 55-acre tract on which the hospital is located.

Originally, he said, the hospital owned a half-section of land, but a small tract was given to the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

The surplus land is leased to private concerns for grazing and contract hay cutting. The leases hold a 30-day cancellation clause.

The "freeze" order, originating in Washington, disallows the transfer of surplus property when the same type of institution is involved. Since the VA lands also are unimproved they are ineligible for transfer.

Previously, several institutions have expressed an interest in obtaining the property. The University of Nebraska wants it for agricultural research and the Lincoln School Board has eyed the site for a possible school location. Bryan Memorial Hospital is interested in obtaining the tract for income support of its charity cases and the State Reformatory would like it for agricultural purposes.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
